On
www.sirianrevelations.net

Since the website first went on line in 2003, we have seen a remarkable growth in visitors (now at over 300,000 hits a month!) who seek ethical, high energy information and spiritual insights as part of the enormously growing New Age/New Thought evolution through these amazing times of shifting into the New Paradigm for all humankind.

We have never considered opening the site to advertising, for the purpose of maintaining purity of message and non-commercialism as a foundation of the site's intention.

Only now, that we have reached a significant number of visitors as the site grows in popularity around the world, have we decided to share the potential outreach to like-minded people, like you, who are concerned with raising the vibrations of Planet Earth. We believe it is time to highlight what is being offered in the way of services and products that can help people deal with the process and to be living healthier, more fulfilling lives. We welcome you to consider joining us in that objective as partners on our website.

Your banner would be based on the following guidelines:

Types of Banners Available

We offer two basic formats for your banner ad: a fixed placement in the left or right margin, which appears on all primary pages of the site, or a larger, horizontal rotational banner which enters a queue of advertisers and constantly rotates, every time the site is loaded or reloaded by one of our visitors, on several of our pages.

Banner Artwork

For the nominal set-up fee of $20.00, our graphic artist will create an animated or fixed banner for you, based on your written direction and any necessary images needed for the ad. You can't beat that – anywhere on the net. Of course we will accept your own artwork, provided it is harmonious with the energy of our site! Once the banner is created for you, we send you the file so that you can use it as you wish elsewhere.

Location

Fixed placement ads will appear in the left and right margins of all primary pages of the site. Rotational banners will appear at the top of our two most visited pages: our homepage, and the Human Voice Blog.

Dimensions/Introductory Prices

Through the end of the year, Dec. 31, 2010, we are offering special low-rate prices to bring your message to our readership. These rates will be extended into the new year and throughout the year for any of you who advertise with us now, so be sure to seize the opportunity! Rates will increase in 2011.

Clearly we do not recommend one-month placements, although we do make that option available. To be successful in reaching your target, it is recommended to appear a minimum of three months so that viewers become more familiar with your service or product.

Left and Right Margin Banners (fixed) More visibility on more pages, constant visibility every time anyone visits. Premium position. No animation. Limited space available.

Or would you rather... Sponsor a broadcast episode of Beyond the Matrix?

We have also just begun offering sponsorship for one or more weekly programs of the Internet radio program, Beyond the Matrix, on bbsradio.com – live with Patricia Cori, weekly, on Saturdays, 10:00 a.m. pst. As we have no advertising in the 55 minute format of the show at all, sponsors have a unique opportunity to have their product, site, or services promoted directly by Patricia with mentions 3 times during the hour – beginning the show, mid-stream and in closing.

Fee for each show sponsorship $70.00 (discounted depending on number of shows desired). It will help keep Patricia on the air, since the cost of broadcasting keeps rising...as well as spread your work to an international, targeted listening audience.

How to place your advertisement:

Please contact us at patcori@tiscali.it and provide us with the following information:

- Time frame for the campaign (one month, beginning date.....)
- Size of banner and or interest in the sponsorship program
- Do you need the banner created by us directly – or will you provide artwork?
- Any questions you have regarding the process that have not been answered in this flyer.

We will get back to you immediately with all the details so that you can get on board as soon as possible and start connecting with the growing family of readers who regularly visit us at www.sirianrevelations.net. Hurry! We have very limited space for this and many requests!

Thanks for your interest!
